ERG confirms its position at the top of Corporate Knights' ranking "Global 100 most sustainable corporations in the world" The highest-ranked Italian company

Genoa, 28 January 2025 - ERG has once again confirmed its position at the top of the "Global 100 Most Sustainable Corporations in the world", a ranking published by the Canadian company Corporate Knights, which assesses around 7,000 listed companies around the world with revenues exceeding USD 1 billion.

ERG is ranked 18th overall in the 2025 classification, marking a significant improvement on the 28th position achieved in 2024 and has confirmed its status as the top Italian company in the "Global 100" ranking.

In addition, the group was ranked top of the 155 global companies assessed in the 'Independent Power and Renewable Electricity Producers' category and second among the 315 global companies assessed in the 'Power Generation' sector (up one place on the podium of the world's best compared to last year).

This confirmation of our excellent performance was achieved thanks to our decarbonisation process, approved by the Science Based Targets Initiative, as in line with the threshold necessary to keep the global temperature increase within 1.5°C, through which ERG has aligned its revenues with the Green Taxonomy, together with the Group's other ESG initiatives.
